CONGRESS SET FOR SLASH IN INCOME TAXES

PASSAGE ASSURED MONDAY; TRUMAN'S VETO EXPECTED

BY FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, May 29 (AP)—Deliberations from the House and Senate agreed in less than two hours today on a $4,000,000-a-year income tax cut, opening the way for final Congressional action Monday.

The bill, carrying sharply reduced withholding rates, is slated to go into effect July 1—if President Truman does not veto it.

Final Congressional approval of the conference committee's action is regarded as only a formality, in view of the majorities rolled up for the measure in both chambers.

The House passed its version of the bill March 27 by a vote of 273 to 137. It cleared the Senate late yesterday, 52 to 34, with some amendments. Both votes, however, fell short of the two-thirds majority required to override presidential veto.

As finally approved by the conferees, the bill would grant reductions ranging from 10.5 to 30 percent over a full year's operation. Because the bill would take effect at mid-year, however, the benefits to taxpayers on their 1947 incomes would be scaled down from 5.25 to 15 percent, this year only.

Withholdings Trimmed
The bill orders these cuts below present taxes:

On net incomes of $1,000 or less, after exemptions and deductions, 15 percent for 1947, and 30 percent in 1948 and subsequent years.

$1,000 to $1,400: Graduated reductions of 15 to 10 percent this year, and of 30 to 20 percent thereafter.

$1,400 to $136,720: Cut of 10 percent this year, 20 percent thereafter.

$136,720 to $302,400: Cut of 7.5 percent this year, 15 percent thereafter.

All above $302,400: Cut of 5.25 percent this year, 10.5 percent thereafter.

Withholdings from wages would be reduced the full year's percentage specified for each bracket, on July 1. The result would be to trim the total withholdings for the year by just half that percentage.

The bill provides an extra $500 personal exemption for taxpayers over 65 years of age, and for their spouses too, if they have reached 65.

House Majority Leader Halleck announced the conference report will come up for action Monday.

Liberty Ship Fire Menaces Delaware River Waterfront

Philadelphia, May 29 (AP)—A stubborn fire that swept through paper, tires and paper products in a hold of the 7,176-ton Liberty ship Barbara Fritchie at a Delaware river pier, was extinguished by firemen tonight after a five-hour fight.

The blaze covered the waterfront with a blanket of acid smoke as firemen on shore and from two fireboats poured water into the No. 5 after hold. There were no casualties.

No immediate estimate of the damage was available, but James F. Carney, chief clerk for the A. H. Bull Co., ship's agent, said the scheduled sailing tomorrow for the Caribbean area would be delayed indefinitely.

Imlay City Killer's 4 Playmates Buried; Hands Hold Roses

BY F. GLENN ENGLE
Imlay City, Mich., May 29 (AP)—Four child victims of a killer's bullets were buried today as they died—with flowers in their hands.

Lowered to a mass grave in a windswept, hilltop cemetery were three daughters and a son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Smith, farmers living near here.

Unaware of the extent of the grief, 16-year-old Oliver Terpening, Jr., named by authorities as the confessed, ruthless slayer, was kept behind bars of Lapeer county jail 12 miles away throughout the services.

Facing a quadruple murder charge, he had said he would rather not attend. His father, mother, stepmother and other members of his immediate family also remained away.

The four flower-decked white caskets, identified by ribboned names, were carried down a winding path between maple trees by four sets of pallbearers. The caskets were identical except a tiny one—that of two-year-old Janet.

The other three contained Barbara, 16, Gladys, 13, and Stanley, 14, who like the infant were shot in the head Monday as the girls picked wildflowers and Stanley and Oliver hunted crows.

The minister's prayer and occasional sobbing and the flapping of a green canvas canopy broke the silence at the grave.

A thousand of Imlay City's 2,000 townfolk and farmers crowded into and around the community's only funeral home earlier for the services.

The victims "were admiring God's handiwork when they went to be with him," the Rev. Elizabeth Rowley, of a rural Methodist church, attended by the Smiths, recalled at the funeral.

The Rev. R. E. Backus, former pastor of the church, stressed "the parents' responsibility to those of their own" in his sermon.

Four black hearses led a 200-car procession from the funeral home to the cemetery a mile away. The cold wind and overcast skies added to the bleakness.

The grieving father and mother wept unashamedly as they stood close to the casket of Barbara, whom Oliver considered his girl friend. She was dressed neatly in blue.

Beside it was that of Gladys, in a pink floral print, then Stanley, in a gray flannel suit, and "Baby Jan" attired in blue.

Each held an American beauty rose.

In his cell at Lapeer county's white-brick jail Oliver waited for his appearance in circuit court on a murder charge. He will be brought to court next week on a waiver of juvenile court's jurisdiction.

CAUCUS CALLED BY DEMOCRATS
Escanaba Men Mentioned As Candidates To Succeed Bradley

Lansing, May 29 (AP)—Democratic chairmen representing the 16 counties of the 11th congressional district will meet with state and national committee members at St. Ignace Monday.

The caucus was called by State Chairman John R. Franco to discuss candidates, policies and proposed campaigning to fill the vacancy created by the death of Congressman Fred Bradley.

Several Republican aspirants already have announced plans to run from the district.

Among Democratic candidates mentioned by Franco were Marvin Coon, former warden of Marquette branch prison and present mayor of Escanaba; Thurman B. Doyle, Democratic candidate for attorney general at the last election; John Lucke, who served as congressman from the district in 1937-39, and Mrs. Violet Patterson, vice-chairman of the state committee.

The Senate bill, now before the House, would levy a tax of three cents on each package of cigarettes and three-tenths of a cent on each cigar or ounce of tobacco.

Black said the inclusion of fair trade clauses, as presently drawn, would violate a constitutional prohibition on including more than one general objective in a single bill.

President Truman Back At His Desk; Mother Stronger

Washington, May 29 (AP)—President Truman returned today to his White House desk at which he will soon sign or veto a tax-cutting bill and one to curb strikes and other union activities.

Mr. Truman, his mind somewhat eased by improvement in his mother's health, flew from Kansas City to Washington, landing at National airport in early afternoon.

For 12 days he had been at the bedside of his 94-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha Truman, in Grandview, Mo. Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the president's physician, reported today that Mrs. Truman "is getting stronger right along." She has been suffering from a weakened heart.

State Office Building Plan Gets Sendoff

Lansing, May 29 (AP)—Before adjourning for a long Memorial Day recess today, the House advanced through strong objections companion measures which would permit a public building corporation to build proposed new state office buildings and rent them to the state.

One of the measures would set up a non-profit corporation to issue revenue bonds to finance the $10,000,000 building program.

The other would permit the administrative board to lease the land immediately west of the state capitol which the state has purchased for the purpose.

Reps. Elton R. Eaton, Plymouth, and Lewis G. Christman, Ann Arbor, both Republicans, led the objectors contending "this is no time to stick our necks out for unknown expenditures."

Amendments Criticized
An amendment offered by Rep. Loomis K. Preston, St. Joseph Republican, to limit rent to $300,000 annually was defeated.

The House passed a Senate-approved bill to cut the Michigan public service commission from five to three members. The action was requested by Governor Sigler.

The measure would abolish the present commission and raise salaries from $6,000 to $8,500 for the chairman and $7,500 for other members. Proponents pointed out "the good members of the commission could be reappointed."

Unnamed present commissioners were criticized on the floor for prolonged absences.

A Senate-approved deficiency bill calling for $1,707,956 to meet departmental shortages for the current fiscal year was adopted in the lower chamber.

The measure included a disputed $38,542 item for the civil service commission. The Senate had stricken the amount and Civil Service Director Thomas J. Wilson had countered by announcing a lay-off of his staff, forced, he said, by lack of funds.

The move threatened to hold up state payrolls.

Later, senators met with Sigler, Wilson and House members and agreed to pass the appropriation.

A bill making immunization against smallpox, diphtheria, and whooping cough mandatory before children would be admitted to school was passed 51 to 21. Exempted were those whose parents had religious scruples.

The Senate-approved measure to "permit the humane use of animals for diagnosis and treatment of disease" was adopted on a 68-11 vote. A regulatory committee to operate through the state commissioner of health would be created.

Family Wiped Out By Fire And Axe At Fairfield, Conn.

Fairfield, Conn., May 29 (AP)—Axe blows and fire wiped out a family of four here today, and state police investigators said that it appeared the father had hacked his wife, son and daughter to death before suffocating in a fire he himself set.

Persons attracted by fire in a five-room cottage discovered the bodies of Mrs. Jennie Murcko, 45, John Murcko, Jr., 19, Jennie Murcko, 23, and John Murcko, Sr., 45. The throats of the first three had been slashed. Alongside the elder Murcko's burned body, police said, was an axe and a pair of scissors.

Father Joseph Carroll, head of the physics department at Marquette university in Milwaukee, said the pulsations might be due to a rock fall in the lake. This area was shaken by an earthquake a few weeks ago.

The Root river, flowing into the Racine harbor, lifted from five to six feet at the same time as the lake level rose, according to fishermen.

Cool Memorial Day Forecast; Weather Normal By Weekend

Chicago, May 29 (AP)—A frigid Memorial Day was forecast today for the eastern parts of the nation, but dry and warmer weather was in prospect for the corn belt states where planting has been seriously delayed by excessive spring snows and rainfall.

A mass of cold air from Canada that brought rain or below freezing temperatures and frost to much of the midwest spread to the eastern seaboard. Forecasters said unseasonable cold would extend south to the Gulf states before moderation begins.

However, a warming trend already was evident in the plains states, and a return to normal temperatures was predicted for the midwest by weekend.

Agriculture spokesmen said warm, dry weather was needed at once if farmers were to finish their corn planting in time to obviate the danger of early fall frosts.

Soy bean planting also has been delayed.

Corn planting in the major producing state of Iowa was reported 76 per cent completed with Kansas and Nebraska reporting 70 per cent; Illinois, 33 per cent; Wisconsin, 25 per cent; Indiana, 16 per cent; and Michigan, 7 per cent.

Frost was predicted for the southern Great Lakes region and farmers expected losses of several hundred thousand dollars to their early garden crops. One major soup company said it expected a tomato crop valued at $180,000 would be lost in northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and Ohio.

Some freezing was reported in Kansas but crop analysts said they did not believe damage was important.

Forecasters said the weather on Memorial Day would be warm and humid in the south east and cooler in the north west.

TIGHT CHECKS APPROVED FOR LABOR UNIONS

HOUSE AND SENATE REACH ACCORD ON STRIKE BANS

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, May 29 (AP)—House-Senate conferees today reached final agreement on a history-making labor bill which clamps tight checks on unions and provides for blocking "national paralysis" strikes by court order.

The conference committee spent two weeks compromising sharp differences between separate bills passed by the House and Senate.

On all major issues, the House conferees yielded to the Senate by junking provisions of their bill which they conceded would have made it harder to override a possible veto by President Truman.

Coal Tieup Anticipated
For example, the House threw out sections which would have outlawed industrywide collective bargaining and authorized private employers to seek injunctions against some strikes and boycotts.

The final draft contains a provision which the conferees said frankly they want on the law books as quickly as possible in the event of a coal strike July 1 when the government will turn the soft coal pits back to private operators.

It provides that the president may direct the attorney general to petition for 80-day injunctions to halt or stave off national emergency strikes. During the injunction period, the disputing parties would mediate their quarrel.

If mediation broke down and workers voted to strike, the injunction would take effect.

KENOSHA IS HIT BY TIDAL WAVE

Lake Michigan Rises 7 Feet In 10 Minutes; Damage Heavy

Kenosha, Wis., May 29 (AP)—Violent pulsations continued to agitate Lake Michigan today, with mysterious swells surging to a peak of seven feet in 10 minutes along the shoreline here and at Racine.

The lake disturbances, which started yesterday, reached a crest at 5 a. m. today when the waters suddenly lifted seven feet to smash into harbor installations and cause damage estimated in the thousands of dollars.

The mysterious tidal surge at Racine washed over the harbor breakwater causing additional damage to waterfront installations.

The Root river, flowing into the Racine harbor, lifted from five to six feet at the same time as the lake level rose, according to fishermen.

Father Joseph Carroll, head of the physics department at Marquette university in Milwaukee, said the pulsations might be due to a rock fall in the lake. This area was shaken by an earthquake a few weeks ago.

Mercury Tumbles Below Freezing In Sections Of State

(By The Associated Press)
The coldest Memorial Day in 63 years was in prospect for Detroit and Lower Michigan Friday as the weatherman warned the mercury would tumble below freezing in many sections of the state.

Sault Ste. Marie was covered by a three-inch snowfall early Thursday, while Marquette, Traverse City, Cadillac and Pellston also were hit by sleet, snow and rain.

Forecasters at the Detroit weather bureau warned there would be widespread frosts Thursday night and predicted the thermometer would fall to about 34 in Detroit Friday, two degrees below the record low of 36 established in the city in 1884.

The Upper Peninsula was due for readings slightly under 30 degrees according to the bureau's Friday forecasts.

No more snow was in prospect, it added.

Wage Raises Given To Office Workers By Michigan Bell

Detroit, May 29 (AP)—Wage increases amounting to more than $1,000,000 were announced today for 2,000 Michigan Bell Telephone company supervisors and other employees not affected by raises granted union members in the recent strike.

Supervisors' salaries were increased to a figure in relationship with the pay of non-supervisory employees before the strike, the company said. Raises of $3 to $4 weekly, based on length of service, were granted non-supervisory employees not represented by unions.

Army Military Budget Sliced 8.3 Per Cent

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, May 29 (AP)—The House appropriations committee's economy drive took a $475,809, 077 bite out of the Army's military budget today, cutting 8.3 per cent from the president's request for $5,716,791,500 in new funds.

In sending to the House floor for debate next week a $5,240,982,423 Army supply bill for the year starting July 1, the committee ordered a reduction of 20,100 in officer strength and 74,631 in civilian employees.

It approved the full request for $280,000,000 in contract authority for new airplane and plane equipment purchases and, with war department acquiescence, cancelled $1,100,000,000 of money appropriated for the current and previous years but neither spent nor obligated.

It did not claim the cancellation as a saving in its drive to chop $6,000,000,000 from the president's overall $37,500,000,000 budget for next year, a drive which has produced House-approved cuts to date of approximately $3,064,000,000.

The committee cut the Army's military budget—its foreign relief and civil functions money is carried in another measure—despite the protests of Secretary Patterson and General Dwight D. Eisenhower that any substantial reduction might lead to "real danger."

While more than half—$293,936,216—of the entire cut was accounted for by personnel reductions, the committee reduced from $400,000,000 to $360,000,000 the new cash for airplane procurement.

The committee said in its report that the recommended cuts would leave "adequate funds for an army of 1,070,000 to perform the missions assigned to it."

It did not call for any cuts in enlisted personnel or in the strength of the corps of nurses and other health units. Neither did it cut the force of civilians engaged in research and development.

The committee approved the full request for $222,216,400 in new money for research and development, the entire $110,000,000 asked for the National Guard, the $24,840,000 for the Reserve Officers Training Corps, and the $56,000,000 for the organized reserves.

Commenting that the Army has been "too liberal" in giving bonuses flying pay to officers, the committee cut $3,600,000 from the appropriation for flight pay. Officers on flying status receive a 50 per cent pay bonus.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) told reporters the committee's cut would mean the Army would acquire only 561 new planes next year, instead of the 932 it seeks.

"This will wreck the aviation industry at a time when we can ill afford to let it go to pieces," he said.

FUEL SHORTAGE IS ANTICIPATED
Oilman Foresees Another Winter Of Short Oil Supply

Chicago, May 29 (AP)—A Tulsa oilman today declared that "present indications are that we will experience another winter of short supplies of all types of fuels, coal, oil, natural gas, and liquefied petroleum gas."

Addressing the closing session of the annual meeting of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association, Howard E. Felt, vice president of the Warren Petroleum Corporation, continued that producers and distributors "cannot provide extraction and storage facilities on a year-round basis of sufficient capacity to meet peak winter requirements."

"I think we are making progress," Felt added, "but right at this moment there are thousands of gallons of butane and propane going back into the ground, being burned in flares and under refinery boilers that we will need very badly next winter."

"Right now coal bins and oil tanks are being filled with next winter's supplies, and it behooves us to make every effort to encourage our consumers to plan ahead for their peak requirements."

Northern Michigan Students To Camp At Lake Munuscong

Sault Ste. Marie, May 29 (AP)—Northern Michigan College of Education will take over buildings at the Lake Munuscong state forest this summer to house a conservation laboratory.

The buildings formerly were a deluxe private hunting camp and then were used as state park cabins.

Wildlife students at Marquette Teachers college will camp at the lake for a six-week course from June 23 to August 1 and a three-week session from August 4 to 22 to study soil and water conservation, birds, game animals and forestry.

ONLY 10 ALIVE IN LA GUARDIA PORT TRAGEDY

DISASTER IS WORST IN U. S. HISTORY; PLANE BURNS

New York, May 29. (AP)—A DC-4 airliner of United Airlines crashed and burned tonight near LaGuardia Field, carrying 38 persons to a fiery death and injuring 10 in the worst air disaster of American commercial airline history.

The plane was only a few hundred yards from the airfield when it fell and burst into flames after taking off for Cleveland in stormy weather.

It was carrying 48 persons, including a crew of four.

Casualty figures were reported by police and rescue workers. Thirty-seven bodies were removed from the wreckage and one passenger died later in a hospital.

The pilot, B. R. Baldwin, of Jackson Heights, N. Y., was among the 10 who escaped death.

Both wings of the huge craft were ripped off. The intense heat from the explosive fire prevented rescue workers getting close enough to drag more of the victims to safety. It was believed the pilot had not had time to cut the switches to prevent fuel tanks from igniting.

Strikes Obstruction
United Airlines said the plane was setting out on non-stop flight to Cleveland. It had been scheduled to leave at 5:30 p. m. (CDT) but, for some reason, was delayed and did not receive the departure signal until about 7 p. m.

First reports of the cause of the crash were confused, but it was generally agreed that the plane failed to gain altitude and hit an obstruction. Some witnesses said it struck a fence, others that it hit a telephone pole.

Baldwin was interviewed at Queens general hospital by Victor Levin, Queens county assistant district attorney, who issued the following statement:

"He (Baldwin) took off at 7 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, with a capacity overall load of 60,000 pounds on runway 16, which is 4,150 feet long, which he claims is the shortest runway on the field. The plane should rise from 2,500 to 3,000 feet.

He said he tried to get it off the ground but nothing happened. The plane continued through a wire fence and across a highway and crashed into a ravine on the other side of the highway. The next thing he knew there were flames all around him.

"He saw a puddle of water in the ravine. He climbed out of the plane and was able to walk. His neck hurt and some people came along and helped him.

"He is suffering from first degree burns of the face and neck and shock, and his condition is not serious."

Three of those pulled from the wreckage, although not yet identified, were reported to be in critical condition at Flushing hospital.

One woman was taken to Phy-

ROBBER GETS
LOOT OF $300

Rings And Other Jewelry
Stolen At Isaacson
Residence

With amazing boldness, a robber entered the Gladwin Isaacson residence, 1111 Tenth avenue south, early Wednesday evening, after first ringing the doorbell to ascertain whether anyone was home, and stole approximately $300 in cash, and a diamond ring, another ring with a pearl setting and a locket with diamond chip setting. Police who are investigating the case reported that the robbery was committed between 9:15 and 9:30 p. m. Wednesday.

A. W. Bogren, aged father of Mrs. Isaacson, who lives at the Isaacson home, told police yesterday that he was in his room on the second floor of the residence when the doorbell rang about 9:15 o'clock. Mr. Isaacson was at work at the postoffice and Mrs. Isaacson was visiting her sister at the time. Mr. Bogren said he did not answer the doorbell because he believed the caller was seeking the Isaacsons.

A few minutes later, Mr. Bogren heard noises downstairs and assumed that Mr. and Mrs. Isaacson had returned. When he failed to see any reflection from downstairs lights, however, Mr. Bogren became suspicious and went to the main floor to investigate. Everything seemed to be in order, however, and Mr. Bogren returned to his room. The Isaacsons returned home about 9:30 but they did not discover the loss of the money and jewelry until yesterday morning.

The house was not ransacked by the burglar who, by an amazing stroke of luck, found the money and jewelry in a top drawer of a dresser in a bedroom, without disarranging the room or other parts of the house. Mrs. Isaacson said that only she and her husband knew of the presence and location of the money. Police theorized that the burglar stumbled into the valuables by chance immediately after he started to search the house.

Entrance presumably was made with a master key through the rear door as the Isaacsons had locked the front screen door from the inside. It is probable that the burglar left the home through

Noted Author To Appear
At Stephenson
August 6

Louis Bromfield, noted author and agriculturist, will come to Stephenson on Aug. 6 to address a public meeting, sponsored by the Stephenson community planning council.

Joseph Gucky, superintendent of the Stephenson schools, who was a visitor in Escanaba yesterday, said that Bromfield also plans to do some fishing while in the Upper Peninsula. His appearance at Stephenson will be financed by the Kellogg Foundation, which has designated Stephenson as one of five Michigan communities chosen for an experimental program in civic betterment.

Soo, effective as of January 4, 1947, shall be affirmed.

The original order of the commission brought forth protests from communities served by the passenger trains and as a result the rehearing was ordered.

Bromfield resides at his Malabar Farm at Lucas, O., near Mansfield. After studying at Cornell and Columbia universities, Bromfield served with the American Ambulance Corps in World War I. He is the author of The Green Bay Tree, Early Autumn, for which he was given the Pulitzer Prize, The Rains Came, Night in Bombay and other novels.

In recent years, Bromfield has written numerous articles on agricultural problems for the Reader's Digest and other magazines.

In case of rain the parade will be cancelled and the varied program, which includes services honoring the war dead, will be held in William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium at 10:30 a. m.

The parade is to include units of Veterans of the Spanish American War, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion members, Gold Star Mothers, Army Recruiters from Escanaba station, National Guardsmen, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and many other prominent community organizations.

BAD WEATHER DELAYS CROPS

Farmers Say Season Is
Two Weeks To Month
Late This Year

Continued cold wet weather has delayed crop plantings in Delta county two weeks to a month, but farmers are hopeful that if there is a normal season of "90 days of good growing weather the crops will measure up to last year's production level.

Thursday's snowfall that blanketed the ground in the county with a covering from one to three inches was taken philosophically by the farmers, who are accustomed to nature's vagaries. It meant another delay before planting could be resumed, but they reasoned that warmer, dryer weather will follow.

Frank Barron, Flat Rock farmer, said yesterday that he believes the season is about two weeks later than last year. He has his grain planted and some of it is coming up. He started cutting potatoes in preparation for planting 40 acres of certified crop and then halted when the snow came. Last year he started planting on May 24.

Barron directed attention to the shortness of the average growing season in this area, and pointed out that three years ago Emil DeBacker, St. Nicholas potato grower, did not get his planting done until past the middle of June. It was that year that DeBacker raised 715 bushels to an acre and established a state record. Barron added that prospects are good for the hay crop this year.

Elsewhere in the county farmers reported that not all their grain was in, and that no potato planting has been done so far. Water is standing in many fields.

10 BILLION DOLLARS OF FHA INSURED LOANS

All for housing...
privately built...
and privately financed

Since 1934, the Federal Housing Administration has insured over $10,000,000,000 of loans under various phases of its program:

- Over $7,500,000,000 of mortgage loans on 1,500,000 houses and rental housing projects;
- Over $2,500,000,000 of repair and modernization loans on more than 6,250,000 structures;
- Borrowers have paid off or amortized well over half of this total;
- Dividends declared to borrowers are more than $4,500,000.

FHA is self-supporting. Its gross income in 1946 was almost $37,000,000; its net income, after expenses, exceeded $24,000,000. Current FHA reserves are over $137,000,000. Insurance claims paid have been one percent net on property improvement loans and six one-hundredths of one percent on home mortgage loans.

We are proud to have played a part in FHA's record of public service. We particularly recommend FHA Insured Financing to investors in rental housing, to prospective home buyers and to property owners wishing to remodel or to make repairs.

We shall be glad to explain to you anytime the details of FHA's low-cost, long-term loans.

Blackeye to Democracy

THE brazen theft of poll boxes containing evidence of wholesale election fraud in Kansas City following the issuance of 81 indictments by a grand jury that investigated the Democratic primary election last August serves as a challenge to all who believe in the sanctity of elections as the first essential of democratic government.

The Kansas City grand jury had just completed its two months investigation of the primary election and had expressed its belief that Roger Slaughter had been robbed of the Democratic nomination through vote frauds which resulted in the selection of Enos Axtell, President Truman's choice, when thieves broke down two steel vault doors and stole the ballots, poll books and tally sheets. These documents constituted evidence of vote fraud that resulted in 81 indictments against 71 persons alleged to have participated in a preconceived plan to steal the election.

The deplorable political situation in Mr. Truman's backyard is a black eye to American democracy. Prior to the election, the president named Axtell as his man and asked for the defeat of Slaughter, who as the congressional incumbent refused to go along with the president on many administration proposals. To the Pendergast machine, the corrupt political organization that first gave Mr. Truman his push in politics, the nod from the president was interpreted as a command to deliver Rep. Slaughter to the scrap heap at any cost, even if it required wholesale theft of votes. Axtell was declared nominated as a result of the fraud but, fortunately, he was defeated in the general election by the Republican candidate, Albert L. Reeves, Jr.

The theft of the ballot boxes, combined with the report of the state grand jury, proves the political corruption of the Democratic machine in Kansas City beyond any doubt. The task now is to root out these falsifiers and criminals and send them to jail and to return political honesty to organized government in Missouri. It is a task for the FBI, just as much as for the people of the state, no matter how much embarrassment it may cause President Truman.

An Educational Job

DAVID LILIENTHAL, chairman of the atomic energy commission, told Middle West newspaper editors of the Inland Daily Press Association in Chicago this week that the American people must become adequately informed about atomic energy so that the development of atomic science will not be slowed by retarding frustrations.

Lilienthal emphasized that there is danger in the prevalent feeling that "all this atomic energy business is over my head." On the contrary, he declared that none of the facts that the public must know are highly technical or scientific secrets. In fact, he insisted that keeping a box score of a baseball game is a more formidable undertaking than acquiring an understanding of the essential facts which the public needs about atomic energy.

The chairman of the atomic energy commission, showing a keen concept of democratic principles, believes that if the American people thoroughly understand the implications, destructive and creative, of this new force, "it is not fantastic to hope that the time will come when in spite of all obstacles to the free flow of news across the borders of the world, the peoples of the whole globe will also come to realize that there is no security for anyone unless international agreement safeguards the entire world against the misuse of atomic energy."

On the other hand, Lilienthal emphasized, if the people do not know what is at stake, the chances are great that the development of atomic energy will slow down, scientists will adjust it and administrators will reject it. As Lilienthal put it, "It will become a fine nesting place for industrious mediocrity."

The people are willing to listen—and to learn. The newspapers and radios are ready to help. The cooperation of the educational institutions is assured. The job, then, is for the atomic energy commission to tell the people what they should know about atomic energy. Lilienthal apparently intends to see that it is done.

Seaway Gains Support

TWO powerful voices lined up Wednesday in support of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project at a hearing before a senate subcommittee. They were the voices of Secretary of State Marshall and former President Herbert Hoover, both of whom urged the construction of the seaway in the interests of national defense and a strong domestic economy.

Former President Hoover's views on the seaway project, of course, had previously been well known. He advocated the project while he was serving as president but was confronted with a hostile Congress. Marshall, speaking as a former chief of staff of the United States Army as well as secretary of state, pointed to the benefits to be derived from the project in the way of national security. Particularly he emphasized that the seaway project would enable the United States to build and repair ocean going ships in the security of the Great Lakes inland area. Further it would open up a vital new line of communications in the heart of the great middle west, the arsenal of democracy in World War II.

The St. Lawrence project is more than a new inland waterway, however. It also is a potential source of new electrical power, which is sorely needed to sustain and expand the productive capacity of the nation.

The seaway and power project stands an excellent chance of adoption at the present session of congress, not only because its benefits have become more obvious as a result of the recent war but also because of the toll plan which will make the project self-liquidating from a financial standpoint. Objections thus are eliminated that construction and maintenance costs would be excessive in relation to its benefits.

Tax Cuts Coming

CONGRESS has agreed upon a substantial tax reduction for wage earners, varying from 30 per cent to small net income earners to 10.5 per cent to those in the highest brackets. The only important difference yet to be ironed out is whether the tax cuts will be retroactive to January 1 or become effective on July 1, as proposed by the senate.

It is not improbable that the house will accept the senate version and set the effective date on July 1 to make the measure more palatable to President Truman, who has spoken out against any tax reduction at this time. Moreover this concession will improve the chances of overriding a veto, in the event the president should elect to reject the tax cuts.

For most wage earners, the heavier taxes for most of the first half of the year have already been paid through withholding. Acceptance of the July 1 effective date would eliminate substantial refunds of money which, in the main, has already been spent.

In voting the 10 per cent to 30 per cent tax cuts now, congress has acted to give the taxpayers a measure to tax relief to which they are entitled. The president preferred to withhold tax reductions this year in order to put them into effect in 1948, which happens to be a presidential election year. Even though he has opposed tax cuts for 1947, it hardly seems likely that the president will risk the repercussions that a presidential veto of the congressional tax reduction bill would bring.

MORE PAPER (Sault Ste. Marie News)

As a help in meeting paper shortages greater utilization could be made of southern pine forests, according to the chairman of a special Congressional paper investigating committee headed by Clarence Brown of Ohio.

Representative Brown feels that by creating more mills near such pine growths an output of one or two million tons of pulp could be processed. This is nearly half the country's consumption, met now largely from Canadian and Newfoundland mills. Further, he suggests scientific reforestation with pine plantings in eroded or unused southern land to increase the paper supply. Such a move would not only help the south industrially, but would make this country independent of outside paper sources. Whereas Canadian newsprint now costs about $90 a ton, southern manufacture might bring this figure down to about $50, according to Mr. Brown.

A good many people in all parts of the country will be interested in these ideas of increasing paper supply.

THE PACE KILLED (Detroit News)

It is only two weeks since Michigan's Rep. Fred Bradley complained of "the terrific pace and physical strain" entailed in "the seemingly endless round of parties" to which he said Congressmen were subjected, particularly if they are committee chairmen, as he was.

Rep. Bradley's complaint is given tragic emphasis by his sudden death in line of duty at the age of 49. His untimely passing should stay the thoughtless—majority of whom are in one way or another self-seeking—who would add to the already considerable burden of those in Washington trying conscientiously to carry the load of government.

THE FROG SAT ON A LOG

Many readers have written to me about the familiar -og words, such as cog, dog, hog, log. "We are utterly confused," a Connecticut speech teacher writes. "Some of the -og words sound right with the 'ah' sound; but others sound silly unless we pronounce them with an 'aw' sound. Why is this? And please give us a rule to go by."

In parts of New England, particularly in and around Boston, many people pronounce all the -og words with the short "o" sound, which is equivalent to the Italian "ah." Such words as cog, dog, log, frog, hog are pronounced: kahg, dahg, lah, frahg, hahg.

But elsewhere in the nation, for some reason which I am as yet unable to explain, the -og words fall into three groups: (1) those words in which the "ah" sound prevails; (2) those words in which the "aw" sound (nearly as broad as in "law") prevails; (3) those words which are about equally divided between the two sounds, some people saying "ah," and equal numbers saying "aw."

For example, in the speech of the country as a whole these words are in group

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

St. Paul, Minn.—Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and a candidate for president, believes we will not have a serious economic recession in the near future. He believes we can regulate capitalism to sustain a high level of production.

Childs

As outlined in a previous column, in a question-and-answer interview I had with him, he gave reasons for his optimism. Here are further questions and answers growing out of our informal discussion of economic problems.

Childs: What about concentration and monopoly?

Stassen: That is a major phase of our problem. Particularly now, in our new position as the major creditor nation of the world, we need to encourage worldwide investment while at the same time developing a code of regulations to prevent international monopolies and cartels and old-style imperialism. The latter could be one of the causes of future world economic crises. The profit motive in a capitalistic system causes a very natural urge toward monopolies as the easier method of obtaining profits. This trend must be checked on a worldwide basis.

—PROPOSES CODES OF CONDUCT—

Childs: That is a new subject, is it not?

Stassen: Yes, and a very important one. If American capital is to go abroad with the Stars and Stripes to back it up, it is of very great importance that we give major consideration to the development of codes of conduct for that capital. In other words, the manner in which local populations are treated, the relationship between profits and local wages, the conditions of living, and the negotiations with local governments, will have a major influence upon future success and freedom in those areas and upon the future success of our own free economy in America.

Childs: In fact are we not likely to produce Communism by the old-style imperialistic approach?

Stassen: Yes, we are. That is one reason I emphasize the need for developing a new code for the conduct of capital abroad.

Childs: Do you feel that in recent years we have not looked closely enough at the control of monopoly at home?

Stassen: The government has not been alert enough. One effect of the war was extreme concentration and greater difficulties for small businesses. A major restraint on monopoly, in addition to direct enforcement of anti-monopoly laws, is to open up the avenues for new small business to begin, to compete and to grow. Our present tax structure needs modification so new small businesses can keep a greater share of their profits for their own growth and expansion. Likewise there is a need to simplify governmental regulation as it affects small business, so that the administrative overhead placed upon a new enterprise does not in itself smother its growth. For the future health of our entire economy, we need to give special attention to small business in America.

Childs: What about labor?

Stassen: That is another major factor in the total approach to regulation of a dynamic capitalistic economy. We are in need of new labor legislation and a new national labor policy to reduce the number of strikes and bring about a proper balance. As you know, I testified in detail upon this before the Senate Labor committee in January. We must be careful not to go too far in restrictions on labor. Minimum wage laws, and sound, strong labor unions are both important safeguards to prevent the drive for profits in a competitive capitalistic system from holding labor's share of the fruits of production at too low a level. If this is done, the result contributes to an economic crisis from which all suffer.

—CAUSES OF DEPRESSION—

Childs: Is it not fairly clear that this was one of the important factors in the 1929-32 depression?

Stassen: Yes, I believe it was. We increased our national productivity and our profits through the '20s at a greater rate than we increased wages. Unions were weak, wages were held down, excessive consumer credit was used on an installment basis. Consuming power lagged behind.

Childs: Did you have this in mind when you gave your optimistic defense of the American system in your talk with Stalin?

Stassen: Yes, I did. The situation now is very much different from 1929. We do not have an over-extended consumer credit and we do not have wages lagging behind. Also, in 1929 you had a satiated agricultural situation with a surplus of food and a depressed rural area. There is not now and will not be in the immediate future a true world surplus of food, and we do not have a depressed agriculture.

As I see it, these basic economic facts mean that we will have readjustments, but not a major depression. We have time to work out the long-term policy and broad regulations that will retain the dynamic and free qualities of our private capitalism without suffering the economic crises and crashes that have clouded its past productive accomplishments.

one (ah): Cog, jog, clog, flog, frog, agog, eggnog.

These words occur with either "ah" or "aw": Fog, synagogue, demagog, pedagog.

Thus, in Standard American speech, one might hear: He was gahgry from too much eggnahg; so, when he came to a jahg in the road, the fahw obscured his vision, and his car hit a lah, breaking an important kahg, and killing his dawg.

Most dictionaries recognize and sanction these differences as good American usage. A few, however, such as Funk and Wagnalls' and Winston's, list only the "ah" sound in all the words. This is inaccurate and unrealistic reporting, another instance of the way in which some dictionaries still dwell in the ox-cart age.

We Won't Forget They Fought to End War

Good Morning!

RACIAL PREJUDICE—There is a story behind the recent Associated Press dispatch from Washington, in which the State Department reported that the American Consulate General at Tientsin, China, advised that two Americans were among 74 refugees who quit the Chinese resort town of Peitah when Communist forces attacked the town. The refugees were taken to Tientsin in a Marine Corps landing barge.

One of the two Americans was Clinton Sharp, of 713 South 17th street, Escanaba. With him was his wife who is Japanese.

Since the end of the war Mr. and Mrs. Sharp have wanted to come to the United States. He could return to his native land, yet his wife cannot enter this country "except for purposes of travel, study, and temporary business." She could stay here for six months but then would have to leave.

Meanwhile the wives or prospective wives of many American servicemen are being admitted to the United States from many non-Asiatic countries. These immigrants include women from Germany, Italy and other countries that were wartime enemies of the United States.

ALSO A VETERAN—Clinton Sharp is also a war veteran. After serving in World War I he returned to Escanaba but decided to enlist. He wanted to see the world and thought he would be sent to Russia. Instead he was sent to China with U. S. Army forces and at the expiration of his enlistment decided to make his home there.

In Tientsin he established a business and married a Japanese girl. Four children were born to the Sharps—two boys and two girls. Sharp's dry cleaning business prospered. They had a home in the city and a home at Peitah, a resort town on the shore of the Yellow Sea. The children attended by their father as American citizens. Mrs. Sharp was barred from attaining U. S. citizenship through marriage because she is Japanese.

SEPARATED BY WAR—When the Japanese militarists began their march of conquest into China, Clinton Sharp sought to bring his family to this country. His wife could not be admitted, he was told, and the family decided to risk the dangers of war to gether.

They were separated, however, for three years—three years of hardship and suffering and peril. The father and the two daughters were interned by the Japanese, and the mother and the sons fled to the Chinese Communist stronghold to escape the Japanese, who wanted to force the boys into the Japanese army. Mrs. Sharp and the boys have recovered from the war.

The war ended. But the Sharp family is still separated—not by war but by the equally harsh reality of U. S. immigration laws barring entry of Japanese.

Now the four Sharp children are in this country. The girls, Myrtle and Isabelle, are living with their aunt, Mrs. Louis Amundsen, 713 South 17th street, and attend St. Joseph school. The boys are grown up and working. Only Clinton Sharp and his wife remain in China. He could come home—but

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba plays host Monday at the Tenth Annual Relay Carnival to two of the greatest college track athletes in the United States—Robert Osgood and Sam Stoller of the University of Michigan and approximately 175 crack high school runners from every city and town in the Upper Peninsula.

Miami, Fla.—Amelia Earhart announced tonight she would take off "soon" on a second attempt to encircle the globe—this time flying west to east in the Equatorial zone.

Castel Gandolfo, Italy—Venerable Pope Pius XI, with his 80th birthday only two days off, in a vigorous utterance today sent special blessings to German Catholics to fortify them against the fierce new Nazi attack.

The thirty-seventh annual convention of the Knights of Columbus of Michigan will be in full swing today, with a civic reception at Ludington park in the afternoon and a huge banquet at the junior high school this evening as the feature events of the second day's program.

Twenty Years Ago

Indianapolis—George Souders, a shy unassuming boy from Lafayette, Ind., became somebody in the business of automobile racing today. Souders, a former student at Purdue University, driving his first major event, won the fifteenth annual five hundred mile grind at the Indianapolis motor speedway before a record-breaking crowd of 145,000 spectators.

Cleveland-Akron Speedway—The 1927 balloon race is on. Fifteen gas bags took the air for the long distance flying competition, the first at 5:01 o'clock this afternoon. The last balloon soared away 54 minutes later.

It would mean leaving a faithful and loving woman who is the mother of his children.

CALIFORNIA PROBLEM

Race prejudice against the Japanese and Chinese stemmed from California in this country. There the Japanese were accused of working at such low wages that white labor could not compete against them. The question of who was responsible for the payment of wages that would starve a white man has never been discussed.

In 1922 the Supreme Court decided that Japanese are not white people, within the meaning of the naturalization law, and could not become citizens of the United States. In 1924 an immigration law was passed excluding Asiatics except for purposes of travel, study, and temporary business.

The "California problem" became a national policy, although conditions outside California were totally dissimilar. The barring of Asiatics from immigration, even to an extremely limited quota, stems from economic factors in California. It was race prejudice founded on the dollar sign.

IMMIGRATION HISTORY—The United States was founded by immigrants, its government was written by immigrants, and its growth and development—both physically and culturally—have been immeasurably aided by immigrants even to the present day.

The younger the country, the greater inducements it offers the immigrant. There is a point of assimilation, however, beyond which it is unwise to go. That is the point when thousands of immi-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—The 32 per cent cut of farm funds, already causing so much GOP teeth-grashing in the Midwest, was not achieved without some rough verbal slugging between Republicans and Democrats in the House Appropriations Committee.

Democratic Congressman Jamie Whitten of Mississippi hotly charged that the GOP Congress war "breaking faith" with the American farmer. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the agriculture subcommittee on appropriations, countered just as hotly that he and other Republicans were only trying to put the farmer "on a respectable basis" by stopping government handouts.

"We've got to quit treating the American farmer like a Serf, as they do in Russia," yelled one Republican during the closed-door melee.

"Well, you folks have got the votes, so there is nothing we can do," angrily declared Mississippi's Whitten. "We of the minority are tilting at windmills. This very subcommittee has been rigged against us. You've got five Republicans on the agriculture subcommittee to three Democrats, whereas all the other subcommittees are divided four to three."

Whitten leveled his "break faith" charge mainly at the extremely large slash in soil-conservation payments—$117,000,000. The farmers, he declared, had already been "promised" this money when Congress authorized $300,000,000 last year. He added that some farmers had received full conservation allotments for 1947 in time or fertilizer, and now the government would not live up to its agreement to pay for them.

To this, Republicans Dirksen and Charles Plumley of Vermont countered that many farmers had been "loaded up with lime they didn't ask for" by their county agents, with the result that committee investigations had found considerable quantities of lime "rotting on farms."

The Mississippian retorted that this was news to him and certainly was not true in his farm district.

—ABOLISHING SCHOOL LUNCHES—

However, the economy cut that drew the hottest wrath from all three Democrats—Whitten, Clarence Cannon of Missouri and Harry Sheppard of California—was the repeal of Section 32 of the agricultural adjustment act. This sets aside 30 per cent of customs proceeds from farm imports into the United States to be used for expanding farm markets. Under this, new markets are found for surplus farm products at home and abroad. For instance, surplus potatoes are turned into starch and surplus milk has been used for school lunches.

In the last 10 years, Whitten pointed out, 81 million dollars of customs funds have gone to poultry producers; 146 million to fruit growers; 180 million to grain farmers; 125 million to dairy farmers; 154 million to cotton producers and 71 million to meat producers.

"But most important of all," said the Mississippian, "a total of 204 million dollars has gone into the school-lunch program for children. Do you want to wreck that?"

"The only way, under present law, that funds can be diverted to find markets for surplus farm commodities is under Section 32," he continued. "The Commodity Credit Corporation, which pays support prices to insure producers a fair price for surplus products, has no powers to divert money for increased markets."

Dirksen and the Republicans conceded that this might be true, but held fast to the view that money for such purposes should be by direct Congressional appropriation, instead of allocating it from customs receipts or some other source.

—ARMING DICTATOR PERON—

The United States now stands at the crossroads of major Pan-American policy—namely whether to sell or not to sell arms to Argentina.

The Latin American arms message President Truman recently sent to Congress and the expected firing of Peron's mortal enemy, Spruille Braden, as assistant secretary of state, all point to the beginning of a new policy—arms for Argentina.

At present, inability to buy arms is the only fly in the ointment of Argentine President Peron. Otherwise, we have perfectly normal relations. We have an ambassador in Buenos Aires. We buy everything Argentina wants to sell except meat. We even permit Argentine airlines to operate in the United States. But we do not sell arms.

However, if the Rio de Janeiro conference is called to set up a new security pact for the western hemisphere, Argentina will be brought in, which means she will also buy arms from the USA.

Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal contend that if we don't sell arms to Argentina she will buy them elsewhere; also if the Argentine army and navy are trained by Americans they will be more friendly to the USA.

And it is true that the Brazilian navy and the Argentine Air Corps, both trained by U. S. naval and air men, have leaned toward the United States; while the Argentine and Brazilian ground forces, trained by Germans and French, have leaned away.

It's a break for his barber when a young man falls in love.

Whether his business is good or bad, the huckster always has something to yell about.

When detouring, the next town always seems farther than it is—but it really isn't.

Townships, Cities To Receive $161,675.75 From State Sales Tax

Through distribution of the sales tax this year the 14 townships in Delta county, the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone and the village of Garden will receive a total of $161,675.75, it was reported by the Michigan state tax commission.

This amount is only $12,986 less than the total tax the townships, cities and the village of Garden levied last year to meet their operating costs. In fact only three of the 14 townships levied a local tax because they either had surpluses or revenue from other sources sufficient to meet their operating budgets.

The townships, cities and villages will receive one-sixth of the sales tax revenue, and this is being distributed on the basis of approximately $4.75 per capita. The first quarter payment has already been made.

Information on distribution of the sales tax to Delta county units was addressed to County Clerk J. J. Theodore Ohlen, who is also chairman of the county tax allocation board. The information is made available to the board to assist it in determining tax rates under the 15-mill limitation law.

The following table shows the population of the various units, their 1946 tax levy except for debt service and extra voted taxes for special purposes, and the amount of sales tax they will receive this year:

Bar Supply Firm Changes Ownership

Northern Bar Supply company of Escanaba began operation this week under the new ownership of Ed Kozel of Iron Mountain. Purchase was made from Val Seymour of Escanaba.

Mr. Kozel announces that he will continue to serve the entire upper peninsula, handling supplies and equipment for taverns and restaurants. He will use Escanaba as his headquarters, although his home is in Iron Mountain. Kozel has been employed as sales manager for the Northern Bar Supply for the past six months. He is well known here as a dance band musician.

WILL DANCE AT FESTIVAL—Reginald and Gladys Laubin, nationally known interpreters of the Indian dances, will dance during the massed chorus singing of Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, by Coleridge-Taylor, at the Hiawathaland Saga spectacle July 3 to 6. The Laubins, who reside at the Crow Indian agency in Montana, will come here direct from the Utah centennial celebration. They are rated as the greatest exponents of the dances and lore of the American Indian. Their dance concerts are attractively and authentically costumed.

Miss Hiawathaland Rules Are Announced

Rules for the contest to select Miss Hiawathaland to reign during Escanaba's Hiawathaland Festival were announced by the Miss Hiawathaland Contest Committee yesterday. "The purpose of the contest," stated Jim Frenn, chairman of the committee, "is to select the young lady who shows the most interest, initiative and ability in assuming a feeling of civic duty and responsibility at an early age."

"The festival is, of course, a city-wide project and will provide fun and entertainment for every one in the community," Mr. Frenn added, "and the entire festival is to be self-supporting. The chief source of income with which to finance all of the festival events will come from spectators' tickets to the mammoth outdoor historical spectacle, portraying Hiawathaland's interesting history. The Hiawathaland Festival committee has gone to a very great expense in presenting an entertainment of such magnitude, and we want everybody to be able to see it. As a special advertising feature we are going to offer tickets to the production, if bought in advance, at special reduced prices, and one of the ways of selecting 'Miss Hiawathaland' will be on the basis of her ability to get these advanced tickets distributed."

The rules of the contest follows: 1. Any unmarried girl 17 years of age or older is eligible to enter the contest. 2. Nominations open today and close Monday June 2. 3. One nominating coupon (printed elsewhere in today's paper) will be credited each girl, giving her 1,000 votes. 4. A credit of 10 votes will be given away for every "Press Vote Coupon" cast for a contestant. Press vote coupons will appear in this paper three times a week. 5. A credit of 5,000 votes will be given for every $10.00 a contestant turns into festival headquarters for advance ticket sales.

6. Additional credit on all votes received will be given as follows: 20 per cent at the end of the first week, 1 per cent at the end of the second week, 10 per cent at the end of the third week and 5 per cent at the end of the 4th week.

7. Advance tickets may be obtained at Hiawathaland Festival Headquarters, 710 Ludington St., from any of the following members of the Miss Hiawathaland contest committees: Jim Frenn, Merton Jensen, Mike Greis, Art Goulais, Harry Gruber, Tom Quinn Hazen Hengesh, George Grenholm, Ed Edick, Bernie Schultz.

8. Votes may be deposited in the ballot box located at festival headquarters, 710 Ludington street or mailed to headquarters.

9. The contest closes at 6 p. m. CDST on June 28 and the winner will be announced the following day.

10. Standings will be announced in the Daily Press.

Alligator Thrives In Land Of Red Buck For 15 Years

Despite snows which sometime seem to be year-around events, an alligator is living in Escanaba and doing nicely. In fact he has been here 15 years. "He", being grammatically correct in a neuter or impersonal sense. No one knows if Petey is a lady or a gentleman. However a trip to the Wickert greenhouse on North 23rd street leaves no doubt as to his genus.

Petey came to Escanaba 15 years ago to make his home in the greenhouse of Walter Wickert. When he left the tropics of South America—to live with an old friend of his master—Petey was eight inches long and two years old.

With half a hot water tank and clean water for his home, he does not complain. So far he has grown to be 37 inches long and responds when Mr. Wickert calls him by name.

Atmosphere abounds for this migrant of the tropics. Snappers, hydrangas, carnations and a host of other gems of the horticultural world lend color and perfume to his abode. And with several hot water pipes running under, he doesn't object.

Tourists fortunate enough to hear of Petey swarm around and hope he'll snort or do something, other than bite. The latter is impossible for a mesh covering keeps out stray things such as hands. So Petey is informed. Of the fact that he can not get out never occurs to him. What more could a jungle captive want!

From April until October Petey gets a lot of attention. Every four or five days fish and other reptilian food is given him. A hand usually does him for at least four days. Fishermen, especially the young set, bring the food and in return want a look at him.

About the time the leaves begin to change color, October or later, Petey decides he has had enough of the worries of the world and just crawls under water to sleep. Mr. Wickert changes the water each day, but Petey leaves it go with a sniff of the nostril or a brief "nosey" in the air. Food is out of the question when the north wind blows snow.

When King Sol starts getting a little friendlier with Upper Michigan and its warmth is felt, Petey decides maybe he is missing something. You know the feeling, after having been in bed several hours. So with a gradual increase of activity, including digestive, he makes his spring debut, in last fall's clothes.

Right now Petey is happily basking in the warming sun and eating his food like a lumberjack. With the tourist season nearing he will be again the center of delight for many who come here to see the red buck.

And, like all good alligators, Petey approaches food from the side—a delight to anyone accustomed to the direct approach. In fact, it doesn't even cost anything to pay him a visit.

W. Watt Speaks To Men's Brotherhood

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist church at its recent May meeting heard Wallace Watt, member of the Delta County Youth Guidance committee, describe some of the problems encountered by the committee which he represents. His talk was interesting, enlightening, and well received, for from the material he presented there followed a round of discussion among the Brotherhood group. Taking their cue from the speaker, a Brotherhood committee, was appointed to work in the bringing about of a City-wide Brotherhood of Church Men. "The Four Pipes," (L. Sundstrom, N. Bink, R. Prin-

Cauchon Resigns As Vet Counselor

Munising—Francis Cauchon, local veterans' counselor, announced yesterday that he will resign his position as counselor, effective the second week in June, in favor of employment as assistant bank examiner with the State Banking department, headquarters in Lansing. Mr. Cauchon has been veterans' counselor here for the past 21 months.

Mr. Cauchon, a veteran of World War II, served 31 months in the Army, 17 of which were spent in the European theatre. He came to Munising after his discharge from the service in June of 1945 and accepted employment with the Ford Motor company. A few months later he became the veterans' counselor here.

A native of Trenary, Mich., Mr. Cauchon had worked there in the Home Savings bank for nine years prior to the war. He is a graduate of the Trenary high school and studied for one year at the Ferris Institute. He married a Montreal girl in May, 1945, just prior to coming to Munising. Both he and his wife will leave for Lansing in June, he said.

Besides his work as veterans' counselor, Mr. Cauchon has been active as a citizen of Munising

Township Plans New Gymnasium

Munising—Rock River township high school's new gymnasium at Eben will be partially ready for use next fall if present plans are realized.

The new building will measure 92 by 92 feet outside, and will house a playing court 45 by 80 feet, a stage, shower rooms, lockers and bleachers. Estimated

Since township voters twice turned down proposals to raise the building fee through taxes, money to finance the undertaking will have to continue to come from planned activities.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A Proclamation

Whereas, Friday the thirtieth day of May is a day set apart by proclamation of the President of the United States on which to pay tribute to our soldier and sailor dead who offered their lives in the service of their country and made their sacrifice in the service of freedom and democracy;

And Whereas, it is the common hope that the service and sacrifice had not been made in vain in any of the wars fought by the United States, for peace again prevails;

And Whereas, we should also pay tribute to our living veterans and renew our faith in the cause of peace for which our people devoutly stand,

Now, Therefore, I, Albert E. Buckman, mayor of the City of Gladstone, do hereby proclaim Friday, May 30, a day of cessation of business and of devout observance.

Wolverine Golfers Defend Title Today

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 29 (AP)—Michigan's golf team left today for Lafayette, Ind., hoping to defend its Western Conference championship successfully against the expected onslaughts of Ohio State and Purdue.

Headed by Ed Schalton, who has been medalist in virtually all of the Wolverines' dual meets during the season, the lineup included Bill Courtright, Dave Barclay, Roger Kessler, John Jensen and Bill Ludolph.

The Maize and Blue team will begin defense of its title tomorrow on Purdue University's home course.

Haiti won its independence in a slave rebellion in 1804.

U. P. RECORD IN THE MAKING—Jack Peterson, Escanaba dash and hurdles expert and a consistent point winner all season, is pictured here winning the 200 low hurdles in the record time of 24.6 in the U. P. finals. "Pete" also placed fourth in the century in a photo-finish. The speedy Eskimo will be seen in action in the U. P. relays this afternoon in the century and low hurdles and he'll also take a leg in the 880. Gil Some, Soo, at the right finished second also in 24.8, also better than the old record of 24.9. His teammate, Ewing, who finished third is out of the picture in an outside lane. That's Hanson, Menominee, at the left, fourth, and Wall, Menominee, bringing up the rear.

Gladstone, Manistique, Escanaba Play Sunday In Marquette County

SUNDAY GAMES IN RAINBOW LOOP

Escanaba at Humboldt Gladstone at Negaunee Manistique at Marquette Ishpeming at Chatham Trenary at Gwinn Republic at Munising

Escanaba's Bears, currently sharing the Rainbow Baseball league with successive victories over Chatham and Manistique, will swing into action again Sunday afternoon against a fast Humboldt nine on the latter's diamond.

The game will mark the Bears' first out-of-town game and their first invasion of the Marquette county baseball hotbed. Humboldt also has two straight victories to its credit, having conquered Republic, 9-1, May 18 and Gwinn, 8-3, last Sunday.

Escanaba opened with an 8-4 win over Chatham and last Sunday vanquished Manistique by a 5-2 count. Manager John Schwalbach yesterday announced that Jack Beck would take the mound against Humboldt.

PRACTICE TODAY

The Escanaba Bears will practice at 3 this afternoon at the City diamond. All players are requested to be there promptly.

Like the Bears, Gladstone's Redskins also will invade Marquette county, taking on Negaunee on the latter's diamond. The Redskins are tied for the loop lead also with an opening triumph over Manistique, 4-1, and a 5-3 victory last Sunday over Trenary.

Chatham will seek to dent the win column for the first time when it entertains Ishpeming Sunday. Gwinn will be host to Trenary. Republic plays at Munising, which dropped its opener to Trenary, 6-4, and bounced back with a 10-7 triumph over Chatham last Sunday.

And to complete the picture, Manistique will join Escanaba and Gladstone in a Marquette county game. Manistique will play Marquette, while the Bears are at Humboldt and the Redskins at Negaunee.

The Sports Parade

BY JIM WARD

Frankly, we hadn't intended to discuss ice hockey again, at least until pigskin thuds began to grow faint next autumn, but if this weather keeps up, we may as well broach the subject now.

That was SNOW that fell yesterday morning, but it's not true Henry E. Hathaway, Escanaba's genial weather observer, took an early vacation because the prolonged cold weather here was making things too hot for him.

In addition to the unseasonal snowfall, an announcement yesterday from Houghton brought the subject of ice hockey to mind. To wit: "If James Bahti, South Range, recently elected head of Michigan College of Mining and Technology student body, has anything to say about it, Dee stadium, the college's big hockey rink on Portage lake's Houghton shore, will have artificial ice this winter."

"This winter," the man says. Well, that's going a little too far, in spite of prevailing weather. Most assuredly, Mr. Bahti meant next winter. But we won't quibble on that point.

The big point is that it appears Michigan Tech is well on the way toward getting an artificial ice rink. One of the platform planks in Bahti's campaign for election as student body leader was procurement of artificial ice, and did the students go for it.

His plan reportedly has the approval of Copper Country citizenry and the college faculty and is cited as a long-felt need because of inability to carry out extensive hockey schedules because of periods of thawing weather. You see, the weather can be unseasonal in the winter, too.

One more paragraph from Bahti's communique: "Acquisition of this new development at Tech would insure greater prestige for Tech's Huskies in the hockey world. Furthermore, it is entirely possible Michigan-Wisconsin semi-professional hockey may receive some benefit from it inasmuch as there is considerable sentiment throughout the peninsula and northern Wisconsin for a 'big-time' puck league."

We bring this to your attention now because of a "long-felt need" in Escanaba for participation in ice hockey on a greater scale. In the Escanaba Hawks, who campaigned successfully last winter on a minor scale, the city has the makings of a team which could play on a par with Northern Wisconsin-Michigan league teams with better coaching, better talent and better equipment.

And to this, we hasten to add, better ice. Marquette and the Copper Country are undergoing pains of great desire for artificial ice to lengthen a too-short season and to do away with many postponements due to warm weather which wrecks havoc with schedules.

If Escanaba is to get into the NMW hockey picture eventually, it too should think in terms of having artificial ice some time in the future, as soon as a plausible plan for acquiring same has been drawn up.

Soo has its Pullar Stadium, an artificial ice rink which could pay if the season were confined to winter skating and the bigwigs there would forget about keeping the plant going for the benefit of tourists in August, who would rather swim, fish and picnic in August, anyway.

Not only would artificial ice boost hockey here, a sport which is truly great, fast and exciting to spectators as well as competitors, but it would be a great boon to Escanaba's figure skaters, who deserve much consideration. The Escanaba Figure Skating club is regarded as the No. 1 club of its kind in Upper Michigan.

With artificial ice, Escanaba could take the lead again in the Upper Peninsula, as it has—already in so many varied sports.

At any rate, we leave that thought with you. And if you think it's a bit out of season—well, it is! But it snowed yesterday!

Down the line are such perennial contenders as Hill Canton of Indianapolis, Russ Snowberger of Detroit, George Connor of Los Angeles, Duke Nalon of Los Angeles and Al Miller of Standish, Mich.

Rex Mays of Glendale, Calif., who won second money on two occasions, will be back in the middle of the seventh row because of his last-minute qualification.

The hit culminated a two-run uprising that enabled the Macks to overcome a 1-2 deficit. A single by Buddy Roser and a triple by Hank Majeski produced the first run. A walk and a double by Eddie Joost in the fifth accounted for the only other run.

Starting Pitcher Bob Savage yielded only five safeties, but two of these were sufficient for the Red Sox to notch two runs. One was a fifth-inning homer by Don Guttridge.

ANOTHER FIRST FOR ESCANABA—The strain of the gruelling 880 is shown here on the face of Don Biehler, Eskymo track ace, as he copped first in the U. P. finals in 2:09.7, only two-fifths of a second away from his winning time in the Menominee district meet. Biehler was tiring rapidly as this shot was taken, but he had enough gas to stave off the late sprint-bid of Rushford, Iron Mountain, and Christenson, Menominee, who were closing rapidly. Biehler will perform this afternoon in the Upper Peninsula relays classic in the mile relay, in which he'll run a 440 leg, and the two-mile relay, in which he'll run the 880.

Tribe Tips Tiges, 4-1 Trout Tagged For Loss

Detroit, May 29 (AP)—Charles (Red) Embree, determined little Cleveland right-hander, turned the tables on the Detroit Tigers today with a four-hit pitching performance that was worth a 4 to 1 triumph over the same Detroit club that twice this season had beaten him by shutout scores.

Rattling 10 hits off Paul (Dizzy) Trout to score twice in the second inning and twice more in the ninth, the Indians knocked a full game off Detroit's league lead, which now stands at 2½ games over the second place New York Yankees.

Embree, pitching in 50-degree temperature, walked only two men, struck out four—all in succession—and didn't let the Tigers get but one man as far as second base until Dick Wakefield's homer ruined his shutout after two men were out in the ninth.

The Tribe bunched four straight hits, singles by Eddie Robinson, Joe Gordon and Pat Seery and a double by Catcher Jim Hegan, for two runs in the second inning, and that was all the batting help Embree needed to mark up his fourth win against three defeats.

Hermansville Meets Wallace Today And Powers On Sunday

Hermansville, May 29 —Mafager Harold Stecker's Hermansville city team, undefeated in their first two starts this season, face a busy weekend when they meet Wallace on the local ball park Memorial Day and travel to Powers Sunday to meet Garis Fleetwood's Powers - Spalding Twins in one of the biggest games of the year for both teams.

Big Tony Machalk is expected to draw the pitching assignment against Wallace, and Stecker will save Lefty Steve Machalk for the Powers battle. Otherwise the line-up will be intact with Mike Machalk, third baseman, back in stride after missing the Stephenson game due to an injury of his right hand.

Large crowds are expected to witness both games. Probable lineup for the Hermansville-Powers game:

3 YANKEES IN QUARTERFINALS

Ward, Turnesa, Chapman Advance In British Amateur Golf

Carnoustie, May 29 (AP)—Three former champions, Marvin (Bud) Ward, Willie Turnesa and Dick Chapman, slashed through today to the quarter-finals of the British Amateur Golf championship, but a fourth Yankee aspirant, Skeel Riegel, fell victim of the tournament's biggest upset when he was dumped out by a 45-year-old Scot.

Robert (Robin) Rutherford, a tall, spare mechanical engineer with a bushy mustache, held a peeve against the British Walker Cup selectors for not even inviting him to their trials earlier in the month, and he took it out on Riegel by beating the Glendale, Calif., star, 1 up, in an afternoon match.

Earlier in the day he had served the British selectors crowd on a silver platter by ousting Leonard Crawley, leading singles player on their Cup team, on the 19th hole.

Chapman and the belligerent Rutherford will clash in one of the four 18-hole quarter-final matches tomorrow morning. Ward and Turnesa will tie into each other in a second, and the remaining two will be contested between various and assorted Britons.

junction would be discharged. Then the president could call on Congress for "appropriate action." What this would be is not specified, but Congress members have mentioned the possibility of seizing a strikebound industry.

Closed Shop Outlawed
Among other things the bill also:

Outlaws the closed shop, under which an employer can hire only union members. It permits the more common union shop if a majority of workers vote for it. Under union shop agreements, employers may hire anyone they choose, but workers must join the union within a specified period.

Enlarges the National Labor Relations Board to five members, two more than now. A fundamental change in board set-up separates the handling of prosecution and judicial functions.

Prohibits jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. The NLRB is authorized to obtain injunctions against them.

Makes unions liable to unfair labor practices, as employers are now, and subjects unions to suit for breach of contract.

Outlaws union-controlled health and welfare funds created since Jan. 1, 1946.

Creates a new federal mediation agency.

Denies a union collective bargaining rights if any of its officers could "reasonably be regarded" as Communists.

Prohibits unions from charging "excessive or discriminatory" initiation fees and dues. The NLRB would be the judge.

Guarantees employers freedom of speech in dealing with their workers so long as their statements are not coercive or threatening.

Keep Children Away From Alley Cleaning Vehicles Is Plea Here

As a safety measure, parents are urged by city department of public works officials to keep their children away from the power shovel and trucks being used to clean out alleys of ashes and other refuse that has gathered during the winter.

The alley spring cleanup is underway, and many youngsters have been hindering the work and exposing themselves to possible injury by playing on and around the shovel and trucks being used in city alleys.

There were a few narrow escapes yesterday and in order to protect the children and expedite the work as well, parents are requested to cooperate to the fullest extent in keeping children away from the work.

Bill Johnson's Bat Nets Yanks 5 to 2 Win Over Senators

Washington, May 29 (P)—Third Baseman Bill Johnson continued his hitting spree, collecting a three-run homer and two singles today in the New York Yankees' 5-2 win over Washington, their seventh victory in their last eight starts.

The Yanks exploded five runs to breakup a scoreless duel between Early Wynn and Frank Shea in the sixth inning.

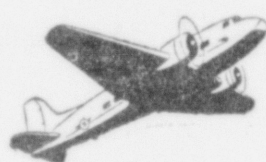

Tommy Henrich's triple following a walk to George Stinewiss scored one and, after George McQuinn was intentionally walked, Johnson hit a homer into the left field bleachers. Larry Berra smashed an inside-the-park home run to complete the scoring.

Washington got to Shea for two runs in its half of the sixth on Mark Christman's double which followed a single by Stan Spence and a walk to Gerry Priddy. New York ... 000 005 000—5 9 0 Washington ... 000 002 000—2 6 0 Shea, Page and Berra, Hawk; Wynn and Evans.

sicians hospital while two men and another woman were taken to St. John's. Their identities were not made known.

As the plane took off, it zoomed at a low altitude over the airport buildings and Grand Central Parkway, a busy trunk highway crossing Long Island, and fell into a vacant lot only a few hundred yards from the runway.

The flaming wreckage was on marshy land only 300 feet from the aeronautics school.

The fire was extinguished before the plane was consumed completely, but the bodies removed from it were badly burned.

Rescue workers said a number of the victims appeared to be elderly women.

Students and teachers from the aeronautics academy joined police in braving the flames to drag the few survivors to safety.

The blazing ship landed in a moist-like depression. Police and volunteer rescue workers were hampered by mud and rain and it was only with great difficulty that the still-living victims and the bodies of the dead were removed.

It was more than an hour before 30 bodies had been placed in the improvised morgue in the aviation school building.

The largest previous death toll from an air crash in the United States was 27. That number died in the crash of an airliner on a California mountain on March 3, 1946, and the same number was killed in a crash near Richmond, Va., on May 16, 1946.

The greatest crash toll in aviation history is 53. That number

WRECK NEAR TOKYO

Tokyo, Friday, May 30 (P)—A four-engine C-54 Army courier plane with 41 persons aboard crashed into mountains southwest of Tokyo last night and it was not known today whether there were any survivors.

The plane, inbound from Korea, had reported no trouble as it flew northward across the mouth of Tokyo Bay, a Fifth Air Force announcement said. That was its last radio contact with ground officials.

Three airplanes and five ground parties were rushed to the scene west of Atsugi airport, the courier's destination and the field where General MacArthur landed to begin the occupation of Japan.

Aboard the plane were 33 passengers and a crew of eight, the names of the men aboard were withheld by the field command.

Rescue parties, traveling by truck, plane and boat immediately began a search of the coastal area.

Among the 21 passengers aboard, most of whom were women and children, was Gardar Thorsteinsson, a member of the

CONGRESS SET FOR SLASH IN INCOME TAXES

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate conferees said he will ask for prompt Senate action the same day.

The question then would be posed squarely to President Truman, who has said repeatedly he does not think this is the time to cut taxes, that the national debt should be trimmed instead.

Fifth Air Force said.

The general headquarters public relations office said a list of passengers and crew could not be released until Tuesday.
